

5 TIPS &amp; TRICKS

Landing the Lead

Master a communication strategy that doesn't push a sale.

1

ENGAGE INTENTIONALLY

Any time you find yourself talking to a server or bartender, pull up one of our sites on your phone, show them a 3D image or two, and simply ask them for their feedback.

2

THE CONVERSATION STARTER

"I'm working with a new hospitality tech company and would love to see what you think about it when you have a moment for me to show it to you."

"I'm working with a patented tech company focused on reducing wasted training time and expense while gamifying the entire training experience. Who manages the training process internally?"

MOVING FROM WOW TO WHAT'S NEXT

The tech sells itself once people see it in real life. Offer them a demo hosted by the co-founders of the company to walk decision-makers through the technology, the value proposition, and the back-end data analytics.

MIX AND MATCH

This tech is completely bespoke to every single client. Clients dictate what they need and want... and we deliver — within days. Nothing like this exists elsewhere. It's a platform built to serve every client's needs regardless of the size of their system or footprint. There are no geographical boundaries — and we can even offer translations!

START THE CLOSE

Once they want to learn more, complete the client intake form so we can schedule their demo. You'll be on the call with your client as well — you'll learn and engage as they do. We'll showcase everything the tech can do, and you get the commission!
